ANN ARBOR, MICH., Dec. 29, 1887.

Messrs. PROCTER & GAMBLE,
CINCINNATI, O.

Gentlemen:—The analysis shows two points of special merit in the "Ivory" Soap.

First—The ratio of fat to alkali is not high. This shows that there is sufficient alkali present to insure a good solvent power to the soap, at the same time there is not such an excess of alkali as to act injuriously on clothing.

Second—The ratio between the hard fats and the soft fats is so apportional that while the soap is moderately soft and soluble in cold water, it does not become so soft in hot water as to be wastefully rubbed away from the cake when used on cloth.

A direct practical experiment in a laundry has proved to me that "Ivory" tested against a certain well known brand of laundry soap, has the same amount of cleansing power and one and two-thirds the lasting capacity. That is, "Ivory" will do one and two-thirds time the work of the other against which it was tested. I therefore consider "Ivory" a very good laundry soap.

Respectfully yours, JOHN W. LANGLEY,
Professor of Chemistry.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory'," but not identified, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.
